- The route from the car park to the Centre is ramped with a permanent tarred surface and downward gradient. This ramp is 140cm (4ft 7in) wide and has a support rail throughout its length, which 110cm (3ft 6in) high.
- Alternatively the visitor centre can be accessed via steps. There are 9 steps, which are deep and not clearly marked, however the lighting levels at the steps are good. The steps have handrails at both sides.

Visitor Centre

- The centre is accessed through double doors that open towards you. Both doors can be opened by staff if asked, to allow access for wider wheelchairs and scooters. The door opening is 156cm (5ft 1in) wide.
- The main visitor centre viewing gallery, interpretation and information displays, gift shop and light refreshments are located on the ground floor, with level access to all. The telescopes can be adjusted to a height suitable for wheelchair users. There is a fixed loop hearing system in place at the reception desk.
- The upper floor, used as a gallery space, is only accessible by stairs. The stairs consist of 15 steps on a tightly winding staircase, with handrails on both sides. These stairs can be hard to use for the less mobile.
- The education room, located on the lower floor is accessible by stairs, a lift and an outside entrance. The staircase is again a spiral, with handrails on both sides and 12 steps. The education room can also be accessed by an outside path, which is on a moderate downwards slope. Access is then through a single door, which is 75cm (2ft 5in).
- There is a lift on the ground floor for public use, going between the ground and lower floors. The lift is a platform lift and is located 11m past the visitor centre entrance. The dimensions of the lift are 0.96m x 1.3m (3ft 1in x 4ft 3in). The lift has Braille markings but no tactile markings. There is no audible announcer, visual floor indicator or mirror to aid reversing. At the lower level there is a moderate ramp leading to the lift, which manual wheelchair users may require assistance with. Staff need to be notified before use of the lift.
- A picnic table is located in the grounds down a slight gradient onto a grassed area approximately 10m from the front door.

- Full baby change facilities are available in the accessible toilet.

Education Facilities

- Education room on lower floor is fully accessible via the lift and outside path as explained previously.
- Dipping pond is situated on raised level in front of the visitor centre. Only accessible via grass covered path and small set of steps, with no ramp access.
- Mud activities at the shoreline are accessed by a grass covered path and then a wooden gate, wide enough to allow wheelchair access. Due to nature of the terrain, the shore isn't accessible any further past the gate.
- Please specify any access needs when booking so they can be addressed and accommodated. Call 01674 676336 or email montrosebasin@swt.org.uk

Events

- The Visitor Centre runs an events programme throughout the year. Events are held both in the Centre and on the reserve. Details can be found in our yearly events leaflet and on the website <http://scottishwildlifetrust.org.uk/visit/visitor-centres/montrose-basin/>

Reserve Walks

- Bank of Scotland Hide; Path to BoS hide not suitable for wheelchair users. The path begins with two raised log steps then continues with a set of deep steps leading down to the hide, with a hand rail on the left side. At the end of the stepped path there is a wooden bridge with hand rails on both sides that allows level access to the hide.
- Tayock; The Tayock walk is located on the Western side of the Basin, off the A935 Montrose to Brechin road. The turn off for the car park is on the left of the road, just after the sign for St Christopher's Caravan Park. There are height barriers (6ft 6in) at the car park entrance.

There is a large tarred surface car park with no designated parking bays. There is a gateway at the start of the path, which is 4 foot wide. The walk to the bird hide is about 1km and is wheelchair accessible. The trail starts with a wide gravel/stone path, predominantly flat but with some minor slopes. A narrower (4 foot) flat gravel path leads to the hide which is on a level surface and fully accessible. However, the viewing slots are too high for wheelchair/buggy users. There are lower viewing slots on the outside section of the hide, which has no roof.

- The Lurgies; The Lurgies walk is located at the South Western corner of the Basin. From the Visitor Centre you turn right onto the A92, and then take a second right onto the A934 towards Forfar, then a third right signposted Bridge of Dun. You then turn right once you have driven over the small stone bridge and drive along the single track road which leads to the car park (there is only a small walkers sign saying Lurgies Walk on the roadside). The walk is about 2km long in each direction.

There is a small rough gravel surface car park that has no designated parking spaces. There is a narrow kissing gate at the start of the path and it's therefore not fully accessible. Prior to the kissing gate there is a stone path, passing through a 4 foot gateway. After the kissing gate there is a wide grass pathway, predominantly flat, continuing for the length of the walk.

- The Shelduck/Wigeon Hides; The car park for the bird hides is located off the A935 Montrose to Brechin road. If you take a left at the Mains of Dun Farm, the car park is on the left hand side of the road shortly after. Alternatively, the car park can be found from continuing on the road past the Lurgies walk and taking a right turn at the end of the village Barnhead. Having crossed the Bridge of Dun, you then take the second right, driving past the Caledonian Rail Museum and follow the road until you see it located on your left. The walks to the hides are between 1.5km and 2km in each direction and aren't fully accessible.

There is a large rough gravel surface car park that has no designated parking spaces. There is a narrow tarmac road that needs to be crossed before the path to the hides starts. The walk starts with a narrow (2 ½ foot) grass covered pathway which is uneven with some steeply sloped areas. This then opens up into a wide dirt path with loose stones and a centre partition with an outward cambre. This path continues towards the Shelduck Hide. The hide is accessed via a set of steps with a handrail. The path towards the Wigeon Hide has a kissing gate halfway along, before continuing along the edge of a field that often contains cattle. This area of the path is often muddy and hard to walk along, especially when cattle are present. At the entrance to the hide there is a second kissing gate. The hide is accessed via a long set of covered stairs, there is a support hand rail present.
